I enjoy having friends!

And remembering things about my friends!

It is important to be a good friend to others. This includes: Using nice words.

I can ask my friends questions about the things they like.

Sharing and taking turns.

I can ask my friends about things they don't like.

I can ask them about their family or their pets.

I can ask when their birthday is.

My friends should ask me questions too!

When my friends tell me about themselves, I will try to remember what they say! It makes my friends feel special when I remember what they have told me.

I might have things in common with my friends. This means we both like the same things.

Maybe we both love pizza!

Maybe we both love the same video games!

Or I can wish them a happy birthday!

We might also like different things too! That is okay.

It makes my friends feel special when I remember what they tell me! It makes me feel happy to make my friends feel special.

When I remember things about my friends, I can ask them if they want to play their favorite game.
