

During a storm, we can stay safe in our home.

If school and work are closed, we will all stay home together.

We will stay away from windows. We will find a spot to be safe.

We have batteries if the power goes out.

We can play with board games or cards when there is no electricity for our electronics.

We might eat different food if there is no electricity to make our food hot.

When the storm is over, we can go outside again.
