

Improving Lives

To ensure ASNC's programs are tailored to the unique needs of individuals with autism and empower them to live healthy, safe, and fulfilling lives in their communities.

Inform and enhance individual and family programming through meaningful collaboration, data analysis, and autism informed best practices.

Improve early and school-aged years by addressing barriers to diagnostics, access to treatment and support services, and positive behavior support.

Ensure ASNC programming appreciates neurodiversity, improves lives across the lifespan, and incorporates whole-person service delivery.

Supporting Families

To ensure families are empowered to understand and navigate their loved one's diagnosis, support and treatment options, and know how to connect with community resources.

Provide people across North Carolina with peer-to-peer support, information, and resources to help their loved ones build and sustain fulfilling lives.

Assess and address gaps for traditionally underserved members of North Carolina's diverse communities.

Partner with individuals and families to share their stories and educate policymakers about the needs of the autism community.

Educating Communities

To ensure ASNC's work increases community understanding of and appreciation for people with autism.

Ensure ASNC promotes the use of autism informed approaches and evidence-based best practices across our communities.

Elevate ASNC's brand so people know where to get help throughout their lifetimes.

Amplify autistic voices to create the most efficient and effective public policy strategies to advocate for the needs of the autism community.

Infrastructure: To ensure ASNC has the infrastructure and nimbleness to sustain continued growth and succeed in the changing political, funding, and service delivery environment.

Our Mission: The Autism Society of North Carolina improves the lives of individuals with autism, supports their families, and educates communities.
