People are different in many ways.

People are different shapes, sizes and colors. Some people are tall, some are short.

Our skin has many shades.
Not everyone looks like me.
I don’t look the same as anyone else.

Some people have curly hair, some people have straight hair, some people have no hair.

I might sound different to some people, and some people might sound different to me.

Some people have green eyes, or brown eyes, or blue eyes.

We might be different from each other, and that is great!
